NO. 130.

COAST CLIPPINGS.

A number of vineyards are being planted at Clayton.

The Mendocino Dispatch reports the discovery near Gilroy of an oil spring about six feet wide and thirty feet long.

The Mendocino Dispatch says the sheep in Anderson Valley are dying off very rapidly, the mortality being caused by the liver fluke.

The Sisters will build a new school house at Jacksonville, Oregon, this year, their school having outgrown its present accommodations.

A California lion invaded a barnyard near Redding the other night and killed thirty-seven sheep. The owner hunted the lion down and killed him.

Considerable ground has been cleared in Jackson county, Oregon, since the last harvest, and more is being cleared. By the time the railroad reaches Jackson county a large area of new land will be ready for the plow.

The cold snap in Southern Oregon has been rather severe on stock of all kinds, especially sheep. A number of the latter have died, and unless we have more favorable weather soon, the mortality is likely to be great. Much feeding is already being done and hay is in demand.

Advices from Lake county, Oregon, are to the effect that the snowfall has been very heavy throughout that section. At Tule Lake, where it was the lightest, there were thirteen inches of snow. The weather has since been clear and cold, cattle being able to cross Lost River on the ice.

Hon. W. R. Willis of Jacksonville, Oregon, has contracted with the O. & U. R. R. Co. to furnish all the lumber to be used for the construction of their road from the thirty-three mile post to the State line. With the opening of spring will come a busy season along this line, which will give employment to many hundreds of persons who are willing to work.

An Anecdote of Malibran.
The incidents of Malibran's later life are so well known to all who take an interest in musical affairs, that any particular recollection of them would be superfluous here, even irrespective of the limits and the purpose of these articles. There is one story of her, however, which does not appear in her memoirs, and I believe has never been in print. When she was singing at Covent Garden Theater, in London, the tenor was Templeton, a Scotchman with a beautiful voice and fair vocalization, but dull, without style or expression, and a mere split-silk upon the stage. All at once, Malibran declared she would not sing with Templeton. The manager, supposing that she objected to him as an artist, and knowing her kindness and good nature, asked her the reason of her decision. After a little hesitation she replied, "Last evening Mr. Templeton was going to kiss me." The manager, who knew Mr. Templeton as well as he knew Malibran, sent for the tenor immediately, and in the presence of the haughtily shrinking prima donna, told him of her accusation. "Modum Molly Brawn," was the stolid Scotchman's reply, "Modum Molly Brawn, I wadna kiss ye on any account." "Molly Brawn," who was then pestered by a gilded throng made up of half the male butterflies of London, appreciated the situation instantly, broke into a peal of laughter, and matters were restored to their former condition. —Richard Grant White, in The Century for March.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.
GENTLEMEN: Your remedy, the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has been used by both my wife and myself. She used it on general principles, as a system and liver regulator; I took the medicine for a long-standing liver trouble, which has been the source of much inconvenience, and which failed to yield to the doctor's remedies, or any other, until I used your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. It both united in pronouncing it to be the best medicine ever used, and in recommending it to others as a safe remedy.

Mayor of Molina.
Chicago, May 20, 1881.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.
MY DEAR SIR: For several years I have been a sufferer, and until your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was suggested I have not known what it is to be free from pain. My family physician attributed all my suffering to a diseased condition of my kidneys, and after he had failed to give me relief, I tried your remedy, and at a well man to-day.

Carl Pfeiffer
Thousands of equally strong endorsements—many of them in cases where the hope was abandoned—have been voluntarily given, showing the remarkable power of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, in all diseases of the kidneys, liver or urinary organs. TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches in EVENING GAZETTE.
EASTERN.
 Conkling's Confirmation.
 WASHINGTON, March 3.

The proceedings in executive session, in considering ex-Senator Conkling's nomination, were unexpectedly brief, occupying altogether only about half an hour. There were no formal speeches, and nothing said against his fitness for the Supreme Bench, but a point was raised by Bayard and other Democratic Senators that the Senate should not allow itself to be used simply to bestow compliments upon friends of the President. Until it was known if Conkling would accept the appointment the Senate should refrain from acting on the nomination. In this connection reference was made to Governor Morgan's declining the Secretaryship of the Treasury after he had been confirmed for that position, and it was substantially charged that his nomination and Conkling's had alike been sent to the Senate merely for political effect or by way of personal compliment. In reply, he was authoritatively affirmed by a Republican Senator that the President expected Morgan would accept the position, and that he did in fact accept the nomination when advised of its having been sent in, although after its confirmation he found the state of his health and other reasons would not permit his serving, and that the President made the nomination of Conkling in perfect good faith without conferring with him, but in the expectation that he would accept. In further response to the objection, it was suggested that no person nominated for high office could be expected to ask the President to withdraw his nomination while it was "under fire," that in the next place, the nomination was not an appointment, but less than half an appointment until confirmed by the Senate, and finally, that if Conkling's confirmation ought to be delayed to await information as to his intentions in the matter, the same rule should be applied to all other nominations. The vote on the confirmation was 39 yeas to 13 nays, including four Republicans. A number of other members of the Senate paired, and several present, not paired, refrained from voting.

What Stanford Says.
 NEW YORK, March 3.
 Stanford is now in the City. On being interviewed he said: "I claim to be a Republican, but not a Stalwart or Half-breed. I did not seek the nomination, and was not present when it was made. I accepted the nomination because it was urged upon me, as a compliment, and because I was assured of election; and at this Stanford smiled, as though a good joke had been played upon him. I was misrepresented in a hundred ways, almost. Numerous anti-monopoly documents were circulated, and Republicans found out too late that they had been outwitted by the Democrats. Had we had another week in which to organize, I would have been elected. I don't think the anti-monopoly vote amounted to much, but it was the working of an organization which gave the Democrats their victory. I carried my own county, Schenectady, which is Democratic usually. I don't think one Republican in thirty in that county is Stalwart."

What Conkling's Friends Say.
 NEW YORK, March 3.
 A Times Washington special says: Men who ought to know say that the nomination was unexpected by Conkling, and its effect upon him were not altogether pleasant. They assert that he will not accept the office. One of his friends said yesterday that Conkling had recently taken retainers amounting to about $15,000, and had engaged to do work which would bring him $100,000, and he could not afford to relinquish these cases and return these retainers for the purpose of accepting a subordinate place on the Supreme Bench, after he had refused to take the office of Chief Justice.

Extra Session Texas Legislature.
 AUSTIN, Texas, March 3.
 The Governor yesterday issued a proclamation convening the Legislature in extra session on the 6th of April, to apportion the State into Congressional, Senatorial and Representative Districts; to pass laws regarding freight and passenger tariffs on all railroads in the State, and to provide remedies for the rigid enforcement of such laws; to make a disposition of the free school lands; and make provision to facilitate the erection of the new Capitol, and other matters.

Lines All Night Again.
 CHICAGO, March 3.
 Direct telegraph communication with Kansas City was held yesterday for the first time within a week. Over two thousand telegraph poles are prostrated on the Wabash alone, between here and Kansas City. Trains are now running regularly.

What the "Tribune" Thinks.
 NEW YORK, March 3.
 The Tribune praises Miller's speech on the Chinese question, saying:

Unlike many, if not most of the speeches on that side of the question, Miller's was a calm, dispassionate view of the whole subject of Chinese immigration; its effect upon industry and labor; its influence upon our republican institutions; its social, political, moral and religious aspects. The Senator's arguments were unusually free from the demagoguery which has been so conspicuous a feature of discussion heretofore made in the press and upon the stump upon this vexed question. They made no specious appeal to the passions or prejudice of any particular class, but are directed to the sober judgment of the American people. He considers the question not merely as a political one upon which voters may be influenced one way or another, but as a problem of statesmanship, to be thoughtfully considered and carefully wrought out. It is satisfactory to think that the subject of so much consequence and such gravity is in a fair way of being discussed seriously and upon its merits, instead of being made a foot-ball of clumsy demagogues, whose only interest is in using it to beguile people and secure votes.

Sherman's Tour of Inspection.
 ST. LOUIS, March 3.
 General Sherman, accompanied by General Hancock, General Poe, Colonel Morrow, Miss Sherman, Miss Poe, and several friends, passed through here over the Iron Mountain road en route for San Antonio, Texas. The party will then go to Laredo and Corpus Christi; thence back to San Antonio, and visit all points on the line of the Southern railway to Yuma, A. T.; from there to Yosemite and San Francisco, returning by the Southern road to Santa Fe; thence to Denver and the East. This is the largest tour of inspection made by Sherman since the war. The trip is expected to occupy ten weeks.

New Railroad in Texas.
 AUSTIN, Texas, March 3.
 The Rio Grande and Pecos Railway Company—capital stock, $500,000—filed a charter to-day in the office of Secretary of State. The line commences at Brownsville; thence up the valley of the Rio Grande, through fields in Webb county, to Pecos river, a distance of 500 miles. H. Waddington, of New York; Alex. C. Hunt and B. Chaffee, of Colorado, and Hon. J. Throckmorton, of Texas are among the incorporators.

Danenhower's Dispatch.
 WASHINGTON, March 3.
 The following cable dispatch has just been received from St. Petersburg: Danenhower telegraphs, "Left eye ruined; must come; oculists say that the right eye is afflicted by sympathy; health splendid, and on my feet; forbidden to read or write; can travel when snow disappears; don't worry; right eye will be saved." (Signed) HOFFMAN.

O'Donovan Rossa.
 NEW YORK, March 3.
 Speaking of the attempt on the life of Queen Victoria, O'Donovan Rossa said: I don't think Fenians had anything to do with it. Fenians in this country would certainly not approve of it. We are ready to attack the English flag everywhere so long as England maltreats Ireland, but we would not retaliate in that way.

Pedestrian.
 NEW YORK, March 3.
 Rowell withdrew from the contest this morning. The score at 12 o'clock stood as follows: Hazlet, 490; Sullivan, 433; Noremac, 442; Hughes, 422; Fitzgerald, 468; Hart, 449.

FOREIGN.
Effect of the Rain.
 MONTREAL, March 3.
 Owing to the constant rain yesterday and last night, melting deep snow in elevated parts of the city, nearly all the low western part from Buena Vista to St. Jean street, is inundated with water from four to ten feet deep. The only means of getting to the dwellings on several streets is by rafts. The Grand Trunk railway track is, three or four feet under water.

Jews Provided For.
 ST. THOMAS, March 3.
 The Consul of San Domingo has orders to forward 250 Jewish families free of expense. Upon their arrival at St. Thomas the Government offers refuge in San Domingo for all persecuted Jews, also gratis land and means to cultivate it.

More Particulars of the Attempted Assassination.
 LONDON, March 2.
 No bullet marks could be found on the Queen's carriage. Resolutions expressing great horror at the attempted assassination of the Queen were passed at various meetings last night both in London and the Provinces, including a meeting of Irishmen.

The Ozar and Empress of Austria.
 The Emperor William of Germany telegraphed messages of sympathy. The Queen held her dinner party last night as usual. No political significance is attached in any quarter to the outrage. MacLean is 27 years old. He states he is a grocer's assistant. The doctors pronounce him sane. The revolver is a six-chambered Colt's, of American make. Two chambers were found loaded and two recently discharged.

Fourteen ball cartridges were found on the prisoner. MacLean says hunger actuated the crime.
 The Cabinet sent a dispatch to Windsor Castle expressing gratification at the failure of the assassination.
 [SECOND DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, March 3.
 The Herald's cable says of the shooting at the Queen: It should be stated at once that the cartridge is believed to have been blank, though the pistol contained two loaded ones. The noise of the shot was very slight, and the Queen did not hear the explosion. She only learned what had happened from her excited ladies in waiting, and the commotion in the crowd. She was perfectly possessed, and sent back to the station as soon as she arrived at the Castle, to hear if anyone in the crowd was hurt. A few minutes after the Queen dispatched the following telegram to the Prince of Wales at Marlborough House: "In case any exaggerated reports should reach you, I telegraph to say that as I drove from the station here, a man shot at my carriage, but fortunately hurt no one. He was instantly seized. I am none the worse." MacLean says he would not have done what he did had he not been hungry. It appears, however, that he took a hearty meal at a Windsor coffee house shortly before the attempt. The Daily News says there is reason to believe that there is more in the matter than at present appears on the surface, and that the attempt is the outcome of some plot. It has been rumored that after the occurrence a man was heard to say, "The man in custody has not done his work." This has not yet been reported to the police. The culprit is said to have had a far happier appearance when safely in the police station than on the way thither.

[THIRD DISPATCH.]
 LONDON, March 3.
 The Times says if no more can be said for MacLean, the would-be assassin of the Queen, than could be said for Guitane, the assassin of President Garfield, or Lefroy, the murderer of Gold, he can as little expect to escape punishment.
 United States Minister Lowell has tendered to the Queen the congratulatory of the American nation on her escape. Telegrams expressing similar sentiments were arriving at Windsor throughout the night. It is officially announced that the Queen passed a good night, and is in no way affected by the attempt on her life.
 McLean passed a restless night. He will be brought up at a special sitting of Windsor Borough Justices this evening.
 [FOURTH DISPATCH.]

LONDON, March 3.
 From later accounts it appears that MacLean fired the shot after the carriage was in motion. Princess Beatrice and John Brown saw him point the pistol at the carriage. He was exactly 30 paces distant when he fired. Two of the four loaded chambers of his revolver contained only blank cartridges. MacLean was charged at the police station with shooting at the Queen with intent to do grievous bodily harm. He asked whether anyone was hurt, but the police refused to give him any information. In searching the yard at the railway station the police found a small bullet imbedded in the ground. It bore the marks of having first struck some other object. It was right in the direction of the spot on which the Queen's carriage was passing, and probably passed over the horses' heads.
 The Queen and Princess Beatrice walked on Castle Terrace this morning as usual.

WESTERN.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.
 Edward Long, a native of Germany, aged 35 years, committed suicide yesterday by cutting his throat. Despondency is said to have been the cause of the deed. He leaves no family.
 August Reisse recently from Butte City, Montana, committed suicide by taking a dose of laudanum. Deceased was a native of Germany, aged 37.

Telegraphic Reviews.
 —Major John H. Franz, surgeon in the United States Army, died last night at Baltimore.

—The Susquehanna river is 12 feet above low-water mark. The inhabited islands are partly submerged.

—In Port au Prince the schools and churches are closed by smallpox; 129 deaths are reported in four days.

—A St. Petersburg dispatch says an immense secret printing establishment has just been discovered at Odessa, and important arrests have been made.
